GRADUATION-2010

The Class of 2010 had an opportunity to pause and reflect on their years at Holy Angels and look ahead to the future as they participated in the Graduation Retreat Day on May 26th at the TYME OUT Center. Graduation Day, June 4th, began with a special breakfast sponsored by the school and prepared by parents of the graduates. This was followed by an awards assembly in the gym. The graduates then practiced for the evening ceremony "until they got it right".

The Graduation Mass began at 7:00pm, and the Mass concluded with the awarding of diplomas and recognition of student accomplishments. The Rice Memorial and Scroeder Memorial awards were presented (press deadline doesn't allow printing of the winners' names, but the information can be found on the school website!) The school-sponsored reception was held after Mass in the Walnut Room. The evening concluded with a dance for the graduates and their families and guests.

See you in 2010-2011

Greetings again!

It's been a terrific school year, but (WOW) the days have really flown by quickly! Is that happening in your life as well? In fact, I'm sitting here trying to write a letter filled with humor and marvelous insight at the last minute because I just haven't had much time (not real successful at the attempt either!).

As we close out the school year, we say goodbye to some really wonderful people who have served our school and given life to what we do here...fourth grade teacher Linda Grueneberg, school secretary Nola Bergstresser (aka Mrs. B), and phy ed teacher Nick Chesak. I am confident that the road ahead will be filled with an abundance of God's blessings for each of them. The Lord gently cares for those who have given much to God's children!

I'm still searching for someone to filled Mrs. B's shoes (not literally) and should be able to make an announcement soon. Holy Angels alum Steve Tennies will be the next HA graduate to take on the phy ed duties...the birthday bat is still there!

During the summer months, we'll be adding a CAT lab in the science room. This is part of our effort to bring Project Lead the Way to Holy Angels. This nationally-acclaimed program makes it possible to introduce students to engineering concepts and provides a great springboard for secondary and post-secondary engineering studies.

I'm looking forward to a summer of putting together many new pieces of the puzzle as we continue to provide more opportunities for growth

We're also adding a Three-Year-Old Kindergarten. At this time, the K3 and K4 programs are full, but we are accepting registrations in the hope of forming additional sections of each! We are also nearing capacity in the K5 program! The future looks bright at Holy Angels School.

I'm looking forward to a summer of putting together many new pieces of the puzzle as we continue to provide more opportunities for growth and development for the students of our school.

Over the past several weeks, I've had the marvelous experience of connecting with several members of the Class of 1975. They are planning a reunion for August 28th and it looks like this group is going to be a handful to keep under control. As I remember, they were always full of energy and good fun "back in the day"! There may even be a guest appearance from Mr. Tway!

I'll close with a home front report...This year was a lot of fun having a grandchild at HA, next year there will be two of Matt and Heidi's kids here. Mark and Liz are still in Green Bay, trying to turn an empty lot into a new home. Luke and Jenny have been busy teaching here in West Bend. And John and Kayla are finding their way back to West Bend over the summer. It's really interesting to see how many West Bender "come back home"...this is a good place to live and Holy Angels is a great place to come together as a faith community! Linda and I will thoroughly enjoy our 35th anniversary in July!

Peace be with you,

Mike Sternig

STUDENTS GO WACKY

Each year during the Student Council elections, the candidates make all kinds of promises (sound familiar?). One promise usually refers to "more dress up days". Why? Who knows! Friday, May 14th, was a Student Council Dress Up Day...Wacky Day! Why? Who knows! One particular class of junior high students was exceptional in the number of participating students.

Throughout the school, wackiness ruled!!! Students used colors, textures and hairstyles to express their uniqueness (and their wackiness!).

MRS. BERGSTRESSER

As the 2010-11 school year comes to a close, we bid adieu to long-time school secretary Nola Bergstresser (aka Mrs. B). She began her tenure in the school office in 1989 and has seen countless Holy Angels students pass through the school office for a band-aid, tardy slip, emergency lunch ticket, tooth fairy envelope, or when they were just passing through to get the classroom mail. Students learned how to be polite ("Anita doesn't work here!") whenever they came to the office to ask for something, and they always received what they needed. As chief dispenser of medications, Mrs. B could almost double as a school nurse, as she also could be found frequently caring for students in the health room.

Back in 1989, the school office was at the crossroads of the office hallway and the main hallway. The school copier and a huge public address system filled a large portion of the room. Over time, the office was moved to its present location and Mrs. B could enjoy an outside window (although it meant that she couldn't enjoy watching phy ed activities day after day!). The new digs gave Mrs. B the only air conditioned room in school which was appreciated most in late June and early August...she always had many guests!

Mrs. B was known for her quick wit, array of glasses, and interesting attire on special dress up days. Her ability to multi-multi-multi-task is the stuff of legends. We wish her the best as she gives up her usual seat at the entrance to Holy Angels and looks for new ways to make her mark on the world.

CHESS TOURNEY

When the dust settled and the spilled pieces of the preliminary rounds were gathered, this year's chess championship saw repeat of last year's title matchup. Defending Grand Master Hayden Steinhardt faced last year's Master Kyle Wilde. Both players were seasoned by experience in the final match during the past couple of years, however, Wilde held off Steinhardt to capture this year's Grand Master title.

Other participants in the Master's Division included: Cooper Holbrook, Ryan Mas, Kenny Holbrook, Connor Hoppe, Leah Zimmer, Luke Albiero, and Sean Jessup.

Novice Division participants included: Tamika Wiesner, Chase Sallinen, Joey Zimmer, Kenzie Mas, Riley Wilberg, Shawn Sworske, Meghan MacFarlane, Eli Tranel, Mattie Zautner, Adam Kern, Dominic Walker, and Andrew Wiedmeyer. Sallinen post the best record in the round robin format.

Many thanks to HA alum Ethan Tranel for serving as the tournament official again this year.

THANKS A BRUNCH

Parents frequently mention that one of the strengths of Holy Angels is the many volunteers at our school. As prospective families tour the school, a comment is often made about the number of volunteers in the building who are helping out. Our parish and our school could not exist without the involvement of many who offer a stewardship of their time and talent.

The parish community also provides for many of the needs of its members through the sharing of ministries. Holy Angels School provides educational, formational, and recreational programs for many of the young people of our parish community. The participation of many volunteers really makes the spirit of family and community come alive here at Holy Angels.

Throughout the year, the names of some of these volunteers have appeared in the Family Newsletter or parish bulletin. There are many, many unnamed people who make so much possible at our school... classroom aides and room parents, playground supervisors, field trip chaperones, health room caregivers, lunchroom servers, Junior Achievement volunteers, fund raising volunteers, yearbook staff, coaches and activity advisors, committee members, guest speakers and readers, Valentine's Party workers, and a multitude of other roles.

During the End-of-School Mass on June 8th, our many volunteers will be recognized as a group for their ministry to our school. Following the 8:15am Mass, there will be a Thanks-A-Brunch in the Walnut Room for volunteers until dismissal time at 10:15am. For some parents, this is the last year that they have children enrolled at Holy Angels and their spirit of giving will be missed.

Bi-Annual Seder Meal

The bi-annual Seder Meal on Holy Thursday recalls the event of the Exodus and the Hebrew people passing over from slavery into freedom with the outstretched arms of Moses showing them the way. In our own time, we celebrate the passing over from slavery to sin into the freedom of New Life with the outstretched arms of Jesus on the Cross providing redemption.

The sixth grade students worked with religion teacher Linda Sternig in preparing the settings for the meal prayer. With tablecloths, candles, and special place settings, the prayer service provided a unique opportunity for students to reflect on the Passover of the Old Testament and our own call to holiness. Led with reflections by various faculty members, the students sampled items such as radish, parsley, unleavened bread, and sweetbread which related to the Old Testament account. Jesus' last cup was symbolized with grape juice. Following the "four questions" and a litany of prayer reminiscent of the Exodus experience, participants joined in singing Remember Your Love.
